IN MEMORIAM

In sad but loving remembrance of our dear Daddy and Husband, T. J. Gardner, who departed this life one year ago today, Dec. 18, 1953.

December is the month,
The eighteenth is the day,
It's been one year
Since God called our Daddy away.

Oft to our hearts comes a bitter cry,
Why did our Daddy have to die.
A voice replies so soft and sweet,
He is not dead, but just asleep.

The old home now is broken,
No longer there you roam,
For the hands that rest forever,
Were the hands that made our home.

Just when life was sweetest,
And you could have lived your best,
The gates of Heaven opened,
And you entered that sweet rest.

Each day there are things we want to tell you,
Then suddenly we know with life you are through.
And yonder in that beautiful land
You are waiting and waving a beckoning hand.

Your thoughts were all so full of us,
You never could forget!
And so I think that where you are
You must be watching yet.

Waiting 'till we come home to you,
Anxious if we are late,
Watching from Heaven's window,
Leaving from Heaven's gate.

—Sadly missed by Wife,
Son and Daughters.

ABBITT HAILS BENSON ORDER

Washington,- Representative Watkins M. Abbitt (D-Va.) today hailed the removal of cross-compliance provisions from the Federal crop control program and the abandonment of efforts to tie the production of vegetables into the price support program for basic commodities.

Of particular interest to Virginia farmers, he said, is the action taken by the Department which would free the producers of sweet potatoes from any of the entangling provisions of the crop control plan. Farmers in Southeastern Virginia have been concerned over this part of the Benson program which would have gone into effect in 1955.

Abbitt, a member of the House Agriculture Committee, said the announcement made Monday by Secretary of Agriculture Benson is "of vital interest to every farmer in Virginia." He said the action is "a recognition by the Secretary of factors which we tried in vain to put across months ago."

The Fourth District Congressman referred to Benson's announcement at a press conference in which he said the Department would end the final part of the so-called cross-compliance program.

By cancelling the cross - compliance provision, Benson left farmers free to plant anything they want on acres idled by basic crop controls. Under the provision killed by the Secretary, farmers would have had to comply with all individual crop allotments set on their farms to be eligible for price supports on any one crop. Now they merely have to comply with an individual crop allotment to get price supports on that crop.

The Congressman said he has long been convinced that there was no need for the cross-compliance provisions. "I brought this to the attention of the Secretary months ago, pointing out to him that was an unjust claim for unneeded controls," he pointed out.

"I am most pleased over the relaxation of this part of the program and feel that it will benefit our farmers immeasurably," Abbitt declared.

The abandonment of the cross-compliance order means that livestock producers will be free to plant corn for their feed needs and not at the same time jeopardize the price supports for peanuts, cotton, and tobacco.

Orange Juice With Morning Milk?

Would you like fresh orange juice delivered with the morning milk? You can get this service in some cities, and more will have it soon. New processes for packing fresh juice without freezing or canning have been developed. The juice stays fresh for two months under proper cold storage and for two weeks in the home refrigerator. It costs a little more than milk. —Changing Times.
